The first Torah portion in the month of November this year deals with the story of Noah. Midrash is a fertile debating ground for the character of Noah.

When the Torah calls him “righteous in his age (Genesis 6:9),” Sages take sides.

Does the text mean that he was just better than others in a time when everyone was horrible as Rabbi Yohanan argues? Or does it mean that he was so righteous, as Resh Lakish contends, that he truly walked with G-d in a way exemplary to all generations? (Bereshit Rabbah 28:8)

Whichever opinion one favors, the Torah’s flood story is unique among the many that proliferate in ancient texts. Why?

Only in the biblical account is a good, caring G-d grieved because of humanity’s inability or unwillingness to act righteously.

The Midrash recounts that G-d through Noah urged the Generation of the Flood to repent their evil ways. For 120 years, Noah persisted in his plea to the people, but they would not listen. Only then did G-d send the flood. (Tanhuma, Noah, section 5)

This Midrash underscores one of the vital messages of the story of Cain and Abel. After G-d accepts Abel’s offering and not his, Cain is angry and jealous. G-d warns Cain not to succumb to those feelings, but G-d does not stop Cain when he kills his brother anyway.

Similarly, G-d warns the people of the earth to change their wicked ways before the flood, but G-d does not make them do it.

Today too G-d wants us to use our talents for good, but G-d does not make us. We are not puppets, and G-d is not a puppeteer.

The free will G-d allows human beings is what makes our lives meaningful.

We, not G-d must choose whether to act for good or for ill. Too often, though, our choices leave a grieving G-d in tears.

The Torah portions in Genesis give us so much to think about and offer so much valuable instruction that can help us to be better people. I hope you will make a point to join us both at services and at Torah study this month to absorb the treasure trove of practical lessons our sacred texts offer us for coping with life today.

Cantor Kelly

To say that this holiday season has been difficult would be an understatement. And yet it has also been spiritual in many ways. The love and concern for our community and for Harry and me personally have been overwhelming. This was my second Holiday season at TBS and our first hurricane and tornadoes (in Florida). Thankfully, Harry and I were not touched, but the devastation these storms brought to our area is real. As I write this, I am unaware of any of our congregants that have been injured or lost homes. Please, if you have been severely affected by these storms, or if you know a congregant that has, and they could use TBS's help, let us know.

There were many questions regarding the decision to push our Yom Kippur services back a day. I can tell you that when I arrived at TBS on Friday morning, my thought was "There is no way we will have this cleaned up in time for services tonight," as did most of the people who were there to help. Hence, the decision to push the services. However, we should have guessed that our congregation would show up and work super hard and get everything done in time. We all make decisions with the best intentions, and sometimes they are right and sometimes they are not so right.

Although our services were a day later, I was so happy to see that many of you came and helped to lift our Holy Days, and remember, even when things do not go as planned, we Jews are resilient and show up. Personally, the time to reflect and pray on Friday evening and Saturday of Yom Kippur is a luxury I have not had in many years, and it helped to put me in a very spiritual frame of mind for our services on Saturday evening and Sunday Morning. I felt like I was extending Yom Kippur, and by Sunday afternoon I felt very blessed. I hope that you each found time to reflect, look inward, and pray.

It is interesting how a disaster can stop us in our tracks. It makes me think of Elijah in 1 Kings 19 when he is standing on Mt. Horeb. Elijah is looking for G-d, because the Israelites have forsaken G-d. G-d causes great winds that split the mountain and shattered rocks, but Elijah doesn't find G-d in the wind. Then there is an earthquake, and Elijah doesn't find G-d in the earthquake. Then there was fire, and Elijah didn't find G-d in the fire. And then there was silence, and then – קול דממה דקה kol d'mamah dakah – a still small voice Elijah heard. That silence was TBS at our Yom Kippur Services. We had weathered the storms, and we had worked through the clean-up. The noise was over, and in that silence, – קול דממה דקה kol d'mamah dakah – a still small voice. But what does G-d say to Elijah? He tells him to go back from where he came. Why? Because that place needs help and Elijah is that help. So too, do we. After we had our time and heard G-d, we went back to help those in need; friends, family, neighbors- because that is who TBS is and I couldn't be prouder of our congregation!

Please notify the Temple office or Rabbi if a family member or fellow congregant is ill or has had an accident. The Rabbi can reach out, only if he is informed that he is needed.

May your year be blessed with all good things, G'mar Chatimah Tovah!

President's Message

Dear Congregants,

I hope this message finds you well after the whirlwind of Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur. Thanks to our dedicated volunteers, we successfully built the Sukkah in the social hall a few days after hurricane recovery, and celebrated "Pizza in The Hut" together.

As you're aware, Milton's visit required us to reschedule our High Holiday services. Despite the challenges, I'm grateful that our congregation came together. Many of us faced damage, but with the support of both congregants and non-congregants, we managed to clear the property and honor our rituals—albeit a day late. It was heartwarming to see so many of you at both the Kol Nidre service and Yom Kippur the next day. Rabbi Fuchs and Cantor Kelly led us in beautiful and inspirational services, reminding us how fortunate we are to have them as our spiritual guides. The Shalom Singers truly enhanced our prayers, creating a warm and uplifting atmosphere.

If any of you need assistance during your recovery from the hurricane, please don't hesitate to reach out. There are many resources available through our congregation, non-profits, and government agencies to help you return to normalcy.

Take care, and I look forward to seeing you soon.

Warm regards,
Steve Berlin

Sisterhood

Shalom ! I am so happy that we are here safe and sound and can write another letter in the Scroll!

A big thank you to Marilyn Wallach for hosting our opening tea. It was fabulous! The warmth of our women was felt throughout. I am so appreciative to all that came. We announced that several board members were ready to pass the baton. Several of you stepped up and we are grateful for that. We are in search of 3 positions to fill: Vice - President, Membership, Programs. If you're interested please let us know.

Another big thank you to Susan Berlin for coordinating the book club. Watch your announcements for the next one. November has a lot happening so please watch for upcoming events.

Hanukkah is around the corner. Leah will be buying some new items, so come check out the gift shop.

"It's not a matter of growing old, its getting old if you don't grow"

Respectfully and gratefully,
Sandy Oswald, President

Religious School

The annual BLESSING OF THE PETS is scheduled for Sunday, November 3. The religious school will participate with our congregation in a Blessing of the Pets on the Shabbat of Parashat Noah. Bring your pet/s on a leash, caged, or otherwise safely transported to receive a special blessing. This year we will meet in front of the sanctuary building at 9:45am. Pictures of pets are welcome as are pictures of pets we remember from days gone by.

Sunday school meets as usual from 9:30am until noon.

Be a SHINING LIGHT! The Shining Lights is one of the religious school's long-standing traditions and annual fund raiser. Each year at Hanukkah, we recognize individuals who show their commitment to Jewish education by sponsoring candles on the Hanukkiah with a minimum donation of $100 to our school. This year our Shining Light donors will be honored at Shabbat services on Friday, December 20th. If you would like to be recognized as a Shining Light, please contact

Mindy Lessem Pollack. Recognition of our Shining Lights donors will appear in next month's edition of The Scroll. We are grateful to all who participate in making our school great.

Tot Shabbat and SixThirteen Shabbat will be on November 1 and again, on December 6. Please plan to join us!
Religious School meets Sunday, November 3 and 17.
Hebrew meets Wednesdays, November 6, 13, and 20.

As we enter this season of thanksgiving, I acknowledge teachers and volunteers who have been especially helpful and supportive of our school recently. Ashley Chaney and family, Kathy Nystrom, Helaine Ledany, the Jaffe family, and Sasha Fradin. Thank you also to Alex and Esther Pedraza for helping with the "Pizza in the Hut" Sukkot event.

I am grateful to all of you who engage with us by attending events, volunteering to help, supporting our school financially and uplifting our students and teachers with your encouragement and enthusiasm.

Wishing you all a very Happy Thanksgiving. And may our hostages return NOW to their families and may all who are displaced return home. And may we see peace – for a true thanksgiving.

Mindy Lessem Pollack

High Holy Day Services & Sukkot

Thank you to Rabbi Fuchs & Cantor Kelly. Services for Rosh Hashanah were meaningful & beautiful. We thank you for going with the flow after the storm & the ongoing changes to bring us a meaningful worship services for Kol Nidre & Yom Kippur, by changing the days & times.

A special thank you to Cantor Kelly. She worked endlessly for days & hours from TBS & from home to get all the slides done for Zoom & our wall projection so that we could hold High Holy Day services.

We had help this year with sanctuary sound tech from Larry & Mike from the Unitarian Universalist Fellowship along with Marc, & Gage Jaffe.

We thank our Sisterhood for changing our Break The Fast to Sunday night. It gave everyone a chance to mingle, relax & recharge, especially after such a trying & scary week. It was enjoyed by everyone.

With much appreciation to Cliff Wardlow of Vero Estate Jewelry, for repairing the silver crowns on our Torah

Hurricane Milton

Thank you to Harry Onickel for his immense help to Trudie, taking our Torahs, to & from the bank for safety during the storm.

Gary Attanasio, Saul Bronstein, Jim Felds, Jane & Lyle Hilton, Holden & Trudie Kriss, Marc, River & Gage Jaffe, John Miller, & Sandy Oswald for putting up our hurricane shutters before Milton's arrival.

Services are always extra special when our Shalom Singers join us along with pianist Aleya Walters. We thank them & Cantor Kelly for their diligence & many weeks of rehearsals to enhance our High Holy Day worship experience.

To everyone who had honors, we thank you for participating. Words of shared prayer helps us all feel more connected to each other.

Bill Edelstein, Holden Kriss & Frank Sosta for an extra set of eyes enhancing our already on site Sheriff deputy security detail.

Of course we could not erect our Sukkah without help. Thank you to Gary Attanasio, Richard Bialosky, Steve Berlin, the Chaney family, Jim Felds, Marc Jaffe, Cantor Kelly, Holden Kriss, & Ben Saltz

Thank you to Gary Attanasio, Steve Berlin, Charlie Block & his grandsons, Sheldon Cantor, Eileen Carberry, Jane Hilton, Paul Kanarek, Holden & Trudie Kriss, Esther & Alex Pedraza, Mindy Pollack & Josh Zwerner who came out to clean up the campus after Milton's arrival & take down our shutters. We thank those that we may have missed. All of your efforts are deeply appreciated.

Thank you to our donors:

Aaron & Linda Eferstein for their donation to our general fund

Myra Greenfield for her contribution towards a new Memorial Board
